

Stocktaking Services Privacy Policy

Stocktaking Services “the company” does not store private data other than personal contact details for its clients that have been freely submitted for contact purposes and no other purpose. The company requires these to remain in touch with its clients and cannot function without them. Personal contact details are never sold on to third parties as a matter of company policy/